PEOPLE

Leithe the Sorceress

"I created this world by means of the necromantic spells and cantraps aided by the demons of Ebthor and Nixus. I devoted many years to tracking down old parchments and palimpsests which told of ancient enchantments and demonic pacts. In dusty cellars and forgotten tombs I found many relics of a forgotten age until at last, beside the white dust of what had been a skeleton centuries ago, I came upon a length of parchment which, protected by necromancies, had endured through the years. The parchment told how to construct this place. Into this land of magical enchantment I moved with many of my servitors and their acquaintances so that I could continue my magics beyond the cares of Yarth and its petty princes"

ANTEDILUVIAN TOMBS OF THE IZVORENI

"The final tomb can be entered with the aid of Knuum Gar, great spirit guardian of Knuum if he is summoned in the light of a full moon in a particular forest clearing in far off Alkebulan.
...I'm unsure of the details of this one."
